“ Aunt Jayne was always smiling and everyone who spent time with her were happy to be around her. Her deep Christian faith was an inspiration. I didn't get to see her since moving to Florida, but we kept in touch through letters and phone calls. I will miss her cheerful voice and how she could raise your spirits. God Bless you, Aunt Jayne. I'm grateful you were in my life.

“ Jayne Whorley was a former neighbor of mine when she lived on S Fifth St. I always enjoyed visiting with Jayne and discussing many topics of the day and loved listening to her infamous laugh. She was always full of life and had that special compassion with everyone that she met. She called me on the phone several weeks ago and I must admit (we were on the phone for an hour or more.) We talked about many subjects and the good times we had when she lived on Fifth St. Jayne is now in heaven talking to her husband, relatives, and many friends she made along the way. Jayne, I will miss you but will have the reassurance that you are no longer suffering. RIP! Dear Friend!
