“ Mr. Byers was brilliant and commanded our respect through a kind of serene presence combined with strict, yet kind authority.

He was patient and tolerant with dunces like me and visibly very proud of those students who mastered the mystery that is Algebra II. Oh that every teacher had his outstanding qualities of benevolence and caring.

His smile in this photograph is exactly like I recall in his class when he would be amused by my way-off-base answers. He never made me feel bad and was like a math Mr. Rogers.

His family and those lucky enough to be his friends are fortunate people and I send you my condolences for surely he will be missed. I only wish I had written these things to him.

“ As we are out of the country, we will not be able to attend the services. Our thoughts and prayers are with you all. Wayne was a great teacher, friend, and role model. We always thought of him as a true gentleman.

(When I went to post this message the Captcha asked me the identification question "What is 8+10?" I could imagine Wayne smiling at that).
