In addition to his parents, he was preceded in death by his sister, Wanda Amsley and grandchild, Xia Martinez. He loved to hunt, fish, and enjoyed the outdoors with his dog. He is often remembered by people for his jokes and making people smile. Many people remember being greeted by him from behind the bar at the Mansion House. He may be gone for now, but never will he ever be forgotten.

My thoughts and prayers are with the entire Amsley family during this sad time. We were neighbors many years ago. I have a picture of Gary and I in a wagon when we were little. It is always a good memory of a simpler time.
