“ To the family of Kegan Dingle:

I would like to express my condolences to you for the loss of your son and brother. The Bible verses at 2 Corinthians 1:3,4 indicate that God can help you to endure during this time. One way that he may provide comfort is through the hope of a resurrection of those who have died promised at Acts 24:15. This can mean being reunited with your dead loved one right here on earth. You can really believe what the Bible says because it is inspired by God, the Creator of life. And the One who gave life to all living things is certainly capable of restoring life to someone who has died. He has also promised at 1 Corinthians 15:26 to destroy this enemy, death, once and for all. It will no longer be able to claim the lives of people dear to us. Imagine the joy when Kegan is resurrected back to life to see the fulfillment of these promises.

“Wow... Crazy to see, almost id say 10 years I came to the town of mercersburg. That was my first time meeting Kegan. We were young boys and I just started playing youth football. Robert Brown was our coach, blessing to him with the loss of his sons as well. Crazy, Carter and Kegan had both played football with me. I remember Kegan very easily, he was best say, a goof ball. He had a very bright personality and he would always find some way to get a laugh out of you. He would of had a bright future ahead of him. He acted dumb at times but was far from the real thing. A boy with much potential taken to soon. I literally played football with him every year after I first moved here if I recall. Lots of little memories were made out there on the field. Thru the blood, sweat and tears we put out there. You were a brother, apart of our small alliance we made out there on the field. Rest easy buddy, gone but never forgotten

“You were one of my first crushes in school. Then we got older, and you liked me & I liked you too. Things didn't go the way you wanted them to with us. You were my 2nd kiss. & this is seriously very hard... I'm sorry you thought this was the only way out Kegan. Truly sorry for that. You were so handsome and funny. I don't know how to feel normal anymore. I lay awake at night just wishing this wasn't true. Wishing I could have found you and changed your mind. I miss you, please rest easy. I'm so sorry Kegan.
