“ Hi Nannerz. It's been awhile but I think about you, and miss you. It just takes the most random thing to bring back a funny memory. Our Cowboys aren't doing so great this year... but next year will be our year! Lol. I hope you are keeping Uncle Joke and Uncle Mike in line up there. I know my mom misses you everyday, keep your eye on her!! Love you ♡

“ I reached for my phone to call you last night to talk about this pending snow storm, and to make sure you had everything you needed as its to be a big one, then I remembered that I couldn't,, and I sat there and cried , then I realized that your worries are over, your physical pain is no more, your disappointments are a thing of the past, and most important there is no more heartache from loss for you to endure , through teary eyes I smiled in that comfort, 53 years your daughter and proud of that everyday, told throughout my whole life "you're just like your mother " and I would just smile and say "uh huh". I don't know when my crying will stop, but I know you will be the one showing me the way to find peace in your loss, I want you to know the life lesson I learned from you, and that is that above all else before anything and anyone Family comes first, and to never turn your back on them, Luna and Lily will not understand why we can't just go get Nan on sundays, and I know I will field that question over and over for a while , they know you Loved them and I'm positive you know they Love you I promise you I will Love and protect the family I helped create ,as they are my everything just as your family was to you, Christmas will be hard this year, you were always here with me waiting on family to come in out , but I promise to make it as special as possible because I know that is what you would want, I will look for you Christmas day , cause I know you wouldn't miss it ,
I Love you Mom, and I miss you, so as I would of ended that call , grab an extra blanket it's gonna be a cold one

“ Linda you will be missed by so many. Thank you for all you have done for Blake. Grandma Sechrist wanted to pick up the phone last night and see if you were watching the Virginians so she could tell you to stop checking out her man. She is really missing her friend. I am sure you are up in heaven giving everyone a good laugh. Rest easy.

“ Nan, its very hard to figure which one of the many many memories i have with you. im going to go back about 25yrs to when i begged and begged you to take me fishing until you agreed to only find out we had no bait so we walked to my other grandmothers to get a can of corn. we finally got to the creek and within 15 mins i broke my fishing pole and the day was over. of course ypu took the blame with my dad so i didnt get in trouble. ill never forget your smile, laugh and most of all your personality, it was bigger tuan life! Give Dad an Mike a hig and kiss for me and tell them i love them. I Love You and will miss you gor the rest of my life.

“Nan! My only mistake is thinking that this moment would never happen. The moment where you would separate yourself from us for better things. Although this is what was best for you, falls on a season of family and being together. You are already missed by us all, I only wish you would of trained someone prior to leaving on carrying on with me during family get togethers. I asked my Grandparent to show you around up there, my Pap will fish with you for sure! Love you!!

“ Nan the pain of losing you will never leave. Knowing how many peoples lives you made better by caring about them and just being there for them helps me cope with it better. You were truly the rock in the family. I love you always and forever. I guess its time you straighten them out up there. I bet you got Mike and Dad in line already. I will see you again. I love you.
