“ It's his daughter Alissa writing, my dad and I may not have always gotten along but he was a great dad to me. He loved me with all of his heart and always took good care of me. From the time I was born him and I had an amazing bond. He was my best friend. I remember playing ball with him in the backyard, going to Dutch wonderland, our trips to my grandma in Baltimore. Him playing his guitar having me learn songs to sing. The days In middle school he'd call me off sick to spend time going on adventures and having the most fun we could have. I love my dad with all of my heart and his memory will forever live on. Im really having a hard time processing it all but he's in a better place now and I need to remember that. RIP to the best dad in the world I hope you knew how much I loved you.
